CV-based job matching for SmartRecruiters

While many candidates are aware of the skills and experience they can offer, they are not always able to translate these into search terms or filters. Conversely, companies miss out on potentially suitable talent when relevant job postings cannot be found on major job portals. This creates an unnecessary hurdle in the application process, particularly for those with extensive portfolios.

Your benefits at a glance

- CV-based job search without complex filters
- Privacy-friendly processing of applicant data
- Multilingual support for international recruiting setups
- Relevant job recommendations in seconds
- Enhanced candidate experience
- Faster navigation through extensive job listings

The p78 MatchMe app enhances SearchStudio with intelligent, CV-based job matching. Candidates upload their resumes and automatically receive job recommendations tailored to their qualifications, experience, and skills. The solution analyzes the relevant content of the resume and matches it directly with open positions. This creates an intuitive application process that enhances the candidate experience and helps companies connect qualified talent with the right jobs more quickly.
